Fire Destroys Five Room House Monday

A five-room house, located on U. S. Highways 77 and 36, was totally destroyed Monday by a rampaging fire ignited by a three-year old boy.

The Cameron Fire Department was summoned to the scene of the blaze. The firemen, who were hampered by the lack of water pressure from the water plug, battled the blaze for about an hour but to no avail.

Milam County Sheriff Carl Black investigated the cause of the fire and reported that a 3-year-old youngster ignited a piece of paper from the gas heater and set fire to clothing in the closet.

The house, which belonged to Mrs. Dick Harris, was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Fortenbury. Fortenbury is employed in Rockdale.

It was estimated that the loss was about $7,500.

Ed McCord Remembered As One Of Milam's Unforgettable Sons

In June 1890, our family moved from Maysfield to Cameron, where we were close neighbors of the Captain A. P. McCord family. I formed the immediate acquaintance and lasting friendship of Ed McCord. This friendship continued uninterrupted from that time to his death, Saturday, February 20, 1954. Every member of our family loved him.

This little sketch is written with a view of acquainting Ed's friends of something of his life since he left Milam County many years ago and especially during his later years. By oldtimers he will be remembered more as the care free, fun loving boy on the streets of Cameron but after he became a man - while putting

The appointment of Mr. Carpenter, board chairman of the Southland Life Insurance Co. and the Texas Power and Light Co., was announced by Travis T. Wallace of Dallas, president of the Cancer Society's Texas Division.

John W. Carpenter

Mr. Carpenter will lead several thousand volunteer workers who will conduct the educational and fund-raising Texas Cancer Crusade, beginning April 1.

"If the present rate continues, cancer will strike one of every two Texas families," Mr. Wallace said in announcing the appointment. "I hope everyone will strike back by learning the facts about cancer and giving generously to their local Cancer Crusades."

Mr. Carpenter has long been recognized as a leader in Texas industry. He recently received the East Texas Achievement Award of the Longview Morning Journal for "the most outstanding contribution to the industrial growth and development of East Texas."

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER SCORES POLITICAL EXPERT FOR WORRYING OVER POSSIBLE CANDIDATE SHORTAGE

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Marlow has now taken to worrying over other people's worries, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

I was out here the other afternoon watchin a couple of baby calves play around, there's nothing happier than a frisky calf on a warm sunny afternoon this time of the year, unless it's a politician who has just been nobilled, and I pulled a paper out of my pocket I'd been carrying around for several days and straightened out the wrinkles and spread it out on the ground and stretched out and looked it over.

Over on the editorial page I ran into an article by a political expert who reported there is considerable worry among the Republicians in some states in trying to find a candidate to run against the Democrats, particularly in states that are Democratic strongholds.

Personally, I believe the expert was having a hard time that day to find something to write about.

I have never seen an office somebody wasn't willing to run for or a piece of land somebody wasn't willing to work or a man some woman wasn't willing to marry. I don't care how hard the race might be and how little the pay, or how sorry the land or the man either, there's always somebody willing to give it a try.

Coffee may be scarce, as well as uranium and plutonium, but I don't believe there will ever come a time when there's a scarcity of candidates or workable land layin out or when a bachelor can't get married.

Of course you understand there is some land that ought to lay out, the same as there are some offices, but hope in the Spring will never play out, and neither will the supply of candidates.

I have worked land that ought to lay out, but I've also voted for candidates that should have too, and while it's true you don't get any more out of a piece of land than you put into it, at least that's the saying although I doubt if it's true of I wouldn't be livin, the same is not necessarily true with a candidate. I've known lots of office-holders who got a lot more out of an office than they put in it, and on occasion more than the law intended.

That political expert ought to rest his mind. Whenever there's a vacancy on a ballot, candidates flow into it like air into a vacuum.

With all the things we got to worry about, worrying about not finding somebody to run for any office ought to come last.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Zalesky Increases Corn Yield Through Winter Cover Crops

Edwin Fischer

J. L. Zalesky of the Pettibone Community has increased his corn production from five bushels per acre in 1946 to 50 bushels per acre in 1953.

Zalesky bought a small, rundown place in October, 1945. Every year since then (except 1952) he has had a winter cover crop of hubam clover or Austrian winter peas on the land. He has changed the land from a hard, sun-baked soil, which was not capable of taking in or holding most of the rain that falls.

Most of the deep plowing has been done by the plants roots. The legume roots have broken a dense plow-pan that has prevented the water from going into the ground. At the same time, the legumes have added nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. The added organic matter holds the soil open so that water may enter and it also helps to store moisture and plant food for crop use.

Zalesky has allowed the old corn stalks to remain on top of the ground, giving the soil protection from rain-drop splash and from the hot sun during the summer months. All crop residues are used to add organic material.

In pastures, Zalesky has overseeded Bermuda grass with hubam and Melilotus indica clovers, vetch and lespedeza. These legumes are doing a good job of keeping the soil in condition to make the best possible use of all rainfall.

Zalesky's objective is to have a cover on the land as many months as possible, giving the soil the maximum protection. At the same time, he is increasing production and improving the soil.

TODAY'S TELEPHONE TIP
by Emily Post

A correspondent complains: "A few people I know are careless about hanging up the receiver after finishing a telephone conversation. Don't they realize that slamming the receiver down makes an unpleasant noise in the other telephone?"

Slamming the receiver is as discourteous as slamming the door. Always hang up gently as a parting, thoughtful gesture. And when you hang up be careful to replace the receiver securely in its proper place. A receiver off the hook means that no calls can get through to your telephone.

THE SICK GET WELL

By
J. E. BOYCE, D. C.

The Los Angeles Herald-Express reprinted this story from an Eastern paper dated 1865:

"A man about 46 years of age, Joshua Coppersmith has been arrested in New York for attempting to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires so that it will be heard by the listener at the other end.

"Well informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over wires as may be done with dots and dashes and signals of the Morse Code, and that were it possible to do, so, the thing would be of no practical value."

The authorities who apprehended the criminal are to be congratulated and it is to be hoped his punishment will be prompt and fitting."

That his, Joshua Coppersmith's telephone actually worked was brushed off with the "of no practical value" statement because "well informed people" knew it was impossible and any evidence to the contrary was disregarded.

We, laughingly, poke fun at our ancestors but we turn right around and do the same sort of things.

There isn't a day in our office that some wife doesn't exclaim that although she has had just wonderful results, her sick husband just doesn't believe in chiropractic. The evidence is as completely ignored today as it was in 1865 by many suffering, ill people who might otherwise benefit greatly.

Here is more evidence in the form of a case from our files.

A single lady of 37 year had been suffering from terrible headaches for years. They were worse about period time. She had failed over the years to correct this condition. The Boyce Chiropractic Clinic began corrective adjustments of her spine after spinal analysis and examination located the vertebrae causing the nerve irritation and interference. When we completed the spinal correction, she reported that her headaches had vanished at the beginning and had not returned. No. 126.

Men occasionally stumble over the truth. Most of them hurry off as if nothing had happened. A few will investigate the benefit.

Note: Texas Workmen's Compensation Law authorizes payment for Chiropractic services. Demand it from your employer and his Insurance Company.

away childish traits - he never lost those youthful characteristics that endeared him to so many people. He was very much like Will Rogers in that he never met a man he did not, or could not like. He became a most successful and prosperous business man, married and settled down in far away Silver Spring, Maryland.

Ill health overtook him over ten years ago and he became incapacitated. During all of these years I have been in constant and close touch with him. His letters were full of his recollections of citizens and happenings in Cameron and Milam County. He never tired of hearing about his home town and his beloved Texas. The least little chit-chat was always welcome news to his ears. Sickness and terrible suffering failed to dim his bright mind, and by reading and study he kept far abreast of his time on every subject. Nor did his long illness change that sunny disposition and turn him into a disgruntled and dissillusioned person. He continued right up to his death to be that same old Ed — courageous, always optomistic, always ready and quick to see the humorous side, and always willing to give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt. His mind remained as bright as "double geared lightning".

Ed McCord to my way of thinking, was one of the most unusual, unselfish, unforgettable, kind and lovable characters that Milam County has ever produced. To him every inch of old Milam was sacred and hallowed ground, and her people the very tops of all mankind.

He is survived by his devoted wife, Mrs. E. M. McCord of 9215 Crosby Road, Silver Spring, Maryland; a sister, Mrs. C. E. Muller (formerly Miss Lizzie McCord) of 2512 Harris Boulevard, Austin; a niece, Mrs. Paul Brown, (formerly Mae Ralston) of Austin, Texas.
